Um grande poeta materialista
(Alberto Caeiro)

A-enthusiastica-att

Entre o grande numero de casos curiosos que existem na literatura, o caso de Alberto Caeiro é dos mais curiosos.

Alberto Caeiro:

Seculo - artigo do Sá-Carneiro.

Montanha - artigo do Ribeiro Lopes(?)

El Tea - artigo do Alfredo Pedro Guisado.

(São Miguel) - artigo do Côrtes-Rodrigues.

Economia - artigo do Carvalho Mourão (?)

A Aguiã - artigo de Fernando Pessoa.

O Mundo - ver se se obtem Santos-Vieira. (pelo lado anti-clerical)

A Republica - pelo Boavida Portugal

(Torres de Abreu talvez consiga qualquer cousa. Se Albertino da Silva pudesse fallar, mesmo que atacasse!)

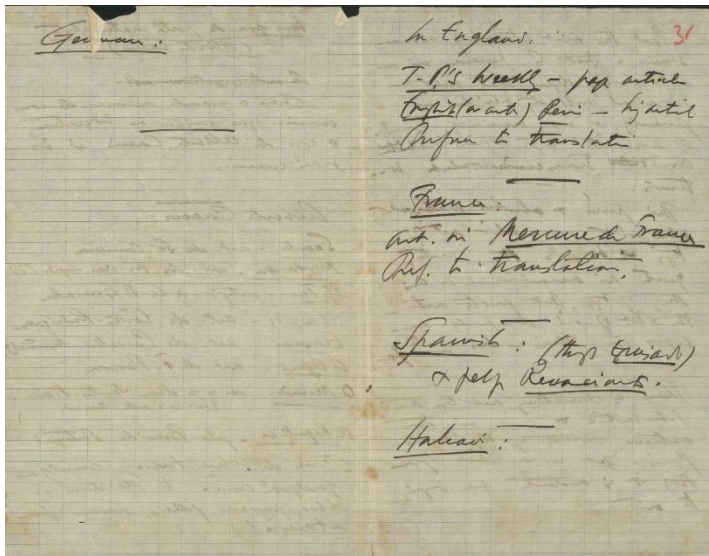

[16a<sup>r</sup>]

But the most astonishing circumstance is that Caeiro possesses in an extraordinary degree that metaphysical subtlety which is generally, if not universally, considered as associated with spiritualistic and ~~de~~ Transcendentalist doctrines.

This pure and absolute materialist, who admits no reality outside things as he feels them, writes, quite in accordance with his theory of things, but quite outside the state of mind that generally accepts it, this is {...} his {...}th poem: {...}

There is something not less than scholastic and {...} in the extreme subtlety of this metaphysics. Yet no one ~~will~~ can ignore that it is natural from beginning to end.
