Winter Day -?-

With God and Christ all optimism is gone -
And the bleak soul finding itself alone
With a [...] shrinking consciousness
In the world's void, in itself a distress
Must have the wildness and the [...] of will
To its eyes with the strong rays of truth to fill
Had recovering this: that the world is ill.
If God be gone and future life and that
Yearning for spiritual things whose secret
Might be none [...] transcendent of the world
And all that in it is [...]

Transcrição

If all that man writes, thinks, feels, knows and loves
~~What would not be forgetful~~ be not where th' body now {...} moves
And where the spirit lives forgetfulness -
If, earth dying, of human {...} distress
Are the songs that we made of his despair
Of ~~truth~~ Homer, Milton, {...} Shakespeare
If all be a perishable mote
What can remain to us but musing
If this all be so... But can it be?

Oh emptiness of empty horror full
Materialism that I cannot annul
Nor me, nor such, {...}

Let us not lie! If all ~~her~~ that is must die
The world is a just crime ~~and~~ but whose & why?
Ay, we need god, {...} Let us create a God
To curse a spirit upon.
