Transcrição

A photograph of a handwritten manuscript snippet on aged, yellowed paper. The text is written in a cursive script and reads: "My childhood was quiet, my education was good. But since I have consciousness of myself, I ~~have~~ have perceived in myself an inborn tendency to mystification, to artistic lying. Add to this a great love of the spiritual, of the mysterious, of the obscure, which, after all, was but a form and a variation of that other characteristic of mine, and my personality is, to intuition, complete." There are some faint pencil scribbles at the bottom of the page.

My childhood was quiet, my education was good. But since I have consciousness of myself, I ~~have~~ have perceived in myself an inborn tendency to mystification, to artistic lying. Add to this a great love of the spiritual, of the mysterious, of the obscure, which, after all, was but a form and a variation of that other characteristic of mine, and my personality is, to intuition, complete.

My childhood was quiet {...}; my education was good.
But since I ~~know~~ have consciousness of myself, I have perceived in myself an inborn tendency to mystification, to artistic lying. Add to this a great love of the spiritual, of the mysterious, of the obscure, which, after all, was but a form and a variation of that other characteristic of mine, and my personality is, to intuition, complete.
